

Courses

Courses are given by the researchers of LAUM, research acoustic laboratory working in the field of transducers, waveguides, vibrations, vibroacoustics, non linearities, acoustic materials and ultrasound.

Courses dealing with signal processing and electronics will be held at the engineering school - ESEO Institute of Science and Technology in Angers.

Professional courses are given by engineers working in companies in the field of electroacoustics.